

CONTENT CODE FOR OVER-THE-TOP, VIDEO-ON-DEMAND AND NICHE SERVICES

PREAMBLE

1. The Info-communications Media Development Authority of Singapore ("the IMDA") is empowered to issue, and from time to time, review codes of practice relating to programmes and advertisements. Television and radio programmes, especially local productions, can exert a significant influence on the community. This Content Code for Over-the-Top ("OTT"), Video-on-Demand ("VOD") and Niche Services ("the Code") seeks to ensure that programmes on such services offered by service providers licensed under the Broadcasting Act (Cap. 28) are not against public interest or order, or national harmony, or offend good taste and decency. The IMDA is also empowered under the Broadcasting Act (Cap 28) to impose sanctions, including the imposition of financial penalties, on any broadcaster or service provider who contravenes the Code.
2. The Code outlines the general standards to be observed by licensed service providers¹ offering the following:
 - (a) OTT Services;
 - (b) VOD Services; and
 - (c) Niche Services.
3. The provisions set out in this Code must be applied in spirit and read in conjunction with other relevant legislation, regulations, codes and/or licence conditions. The IMDA may require service providers to withdraw programmes that do not comply with this Code.
4. The Code deals in general principles and does not seek to address each and every possible case or scenario that could arise. Service providers may face cases or scenarios which are not specifically referred to or directly addressed in this Code. Examples included in the Code are not exhaustive. However, the principles and provisions in the following sections, should make clear what the Code is designed to achieve and help service providers make the necessary judgements.

¹ This Code does not apply to services specified in the Content Code for Nationwide Managed Transmission Linear Television Services.

PART 1: CLASSIFICATION

- 1.1 To aid parental guidance and allow for informed viewing choice, all content must be rated according to the Film Classification Guidelines (appended in Annex A). The six ratings are as follows:
 - G – General
 - PG – Parental Guidance
 - PG13 – Parental Guidance for Children below 13
 - NC16 – No Children below 16 years of age
 - M18 – Mature 18, for persons 18 years and above
 - R21 – Restricted to persons 21 years and above
- 1.2 With the exception of services targeting children, service providers can offer content that is rated NC16 or higher, provided that parental locks are made available for such content.
- 1.3 Service providers can offer R21 content only if they implement a reliable age verification mechanism. All R21 content must be locked by default, and should only be accessible to users for purchasing or viewing via R21 PIN. R21 content must not be offered for free.
- 1.4 Any content disallowed or prohibited under applicable laws, regulations, codes and/or licence conditions in Singapore must not be offered.

PART 2: DISPLAY OF CLASSIFICATION RATING AND CONSUMER ADVICE

- 2.1 The classification rating should be presented visually and prominently such that a consumer is aware of the programme's rating before making a decision to view or purchase the programme.
- 2.2 For programmes rated PG13 or higher, the consumer advice should also accompany the rating, stating the main elements² which have contributed to the classification, e.g. Rated "M18" for Strong Violence.

PART 3: CONTENT ADVERTISING AND PROMOTION

- 3.3 Advertisements of services and programmes by service providers on TV and radio must comply with the relevant content codes.
- 3.4 Service providers are encouraged to include the appropriate programme rating symbols and consumer advice for programmes rated NC16 and higher in print and online promotional and publicity materials.

² This includes the intensity and/or frequency of the elements, e.g. "Due to strong violence and frequent horror scenes, parental guidance is advised."

- 3.5 Any tag-on promotional trailers to a programme made available must be edited to the equivalent or lower classification standard of that offering, e.g. the trailer of an M18 programme tagged on to a NC16 programme must be edited to NC16 standards or below.
- 3.6 Tag-on promotional trailers for programmes rated PG13 or higher are not allowed as part of a programme targeted at children.

Advertisements for Services Containing R21 Content

- 3.7 Advertisements for services containing R21 content and individual R21 titles are allowed on print and online provided that the advertisements are suitable for general audiences and carry the appropriate programme rating symbols and consumer advice.
- 3.8 Advertisements for services containing R21 content are allowed on free-to-air TV, free-to-air radio and Subscription TV linear channels provided that:
- (a) the service being promoted does not predominantly offer R21 content;
 - (b) the advertisements promote the service as a whole;
 - (c) the advertisements are suitably edited according to the relevant content codes; and
 - (d) the advertisements are not broadcast on channels, timeslots or programmes targeted at children.
- 3.9 The additional platform-specific advertisement guidelines are as follows:
- (a) On free-to-air TV:
 - (i) the advertisements, when aired between 6am and 10pm, do not promote or contain posters, still images or excerpts of M18 titles; and
 - (ii) the advertisements do not promote or contain posters, still images or excerpts of R21 titles at all times.
 - (b) On Subscription TV linear channels:
 - (i) the advertisements do not promote individual R21 titles; and
 - (ii) the advertisements containing any posters, still images or excerpts of R21 titles are confined to Subscription TV timeslots on channels where M18 content is shown (i.e. 10pm to 6am).
 - (c) On free-to-air radio:

- (i) the advisements do not promote or make reference to any R21 titles.

3.10 Service providers must satisfy the requirements in the relevant content codes when advertising their services and programmes on TV and radio. They should also exercise discretion and due caution to not include in the advertisements, posters, still images or excerpts of titles which are controversial or contain sensitive content concerns and themes.

3.11 Advertisements and trailers for movies or any video content rated Restricted 21 (R21) and arts entertainment rated Restricted 18 (R18) are only allowed on services containing R21 content, and should only be accessible to users after entry of the R21 PIN.

PART 4: GENERAL PRINCIPLES

National and Public Interest

4.1 Programmes must:

- (a) comply with the prevailing laws of Singapore;
- (b) not undermine national interest, national security, public interest, public security or public order;
- (c) not be detrimental to Singapore's relationship with other countries; and
- (d) not contain extremist or anarchic messages, such as advocating or promoting the use of violence.

4.2 Service providers must ensure that due impartiality is observed in programmes dealing with matters of public policy or controversial issues of public importance in Singapore. Due impartiality requires programme producers to deal even-handedly when opposing points of view are presented in a programme. On matters of public importance, balance should be sought through the presentation, as far as possible, of principal relevant viewpoints. Programmes should not be slanted by the exclusion of facts or by misleading emphasis. Every reasonable effort must be made to ensure that the factual content of programmes is accurate.

Racial and Religious Harmony

4.3 For the purposes of this Code, race includes dialect groups and ethnic groups.

4.4 Service providers should bear in mind Singapore's multi-racial and multi-religious context. They should exercise due caution and discretion when featuring the activities, beliefs, practices, or views of any racial or religious group. In featuring any religious belief or view, service providers should ensure these do not in any way disparage or cast other religious faiths in poor light.

4.5 Programmes must:

- (a) be kept secular and not be of a proselytic nature;
- (b) present references to race and religion accurately and in a dignified and sensitive manner;
- (c) not denigrate or be likely to offend the sensitivities of any racial or religious group; and
- (d) not incite or be likely to incite racial and/or religious intolerance or misunderstanding must not be broadcast.

4.6 Racial and religious stereotyping should be avoided.

PART 5: CLASSIFIABLE CONTENT ELEMENTS

5.1 The seven major content concerns addressed in this Code are as follows:

- Theme
- Violence
- Nudity
- Sex
- Language
- Drug Use
- Horror

5.2 The different degrees to which each content concern can be allowed at the various classification levels are spelt out in detail in the IMDA's Film Classification Guidelines (appended in Annex A). These Guidelines serve as a basis for classifying programmes and should be read in conjunction with all the other provisions set out in this Code.³

³ Provisions in the Film Classification Guidelines relating to Trailers and Publicity Materials are not applicable to licensed service providers subject to this Code.

PART 6: ADDITIONAL CONTENT CONSIDERATIONS

News & Other Factual Content

- 6.1 Service providers should deal even-handedly with diverse viewpoints in news and other factual programmes, such as current affairs and info-educational programmes. Balance should be sought through the presentation of different viewpoints, and not be slanted by the exclusion of facts or by misleading emphasis.
- 6.2 Every reasonable effort must be made to ensure that factual content is accurate.
- 6.3 The Government or its agencies are to be granted, as soon as practicable, a right of reply or an opportunity to respond to correct mistakes, wrongful reporting or misrepresentations. For private individuals or groups, an opportunity to respond should be considered based on the merits of each case. The IMDA may direct a service provider to give an aggrieved party the opportunity to respond over an appropriate medium.
- 6.4 Significant errors in factual programmes such as news, current affairs and info-educational programmes should be corrected and made available at the earliest opportunity.
- 6.5 News and other factual programmes, such as current affairs and info-educational programmes, that contain disturbing, alarming or graphic real-life visuals should carry consumer advice to alert viewers.

Stimuli Beyond Normal Perceptual Threshold

Subliminal Messaging

- 6.6 Programmes with subliminal messaging, which is the use of images, sounds or any other devices or means to convey messages or influence the minds of audiences without their being aware of it, are not allowed.

Flashing Images and Regular Patterns

- 6.7 Flashing lights and certain types of regular visual patterns may cause problems for some viewers suffering from photosensitive epilepsy or other related conditions. Care should be taken to minimise these risks in all programmes, especially programmes where children are likely to be watching as they could be more susceptible.

Hypnotism

- 6.8 For any broadcast demonstration of hypnotism for entertainment, care should be taken to minimise the risk of hypnosis being induced in susceptible viewers.

IMPLEMENTATION OF THE CODE

This Code shall come into effect on 1 March 2018 and replaces the Content Code for Niche Services and the Video-on-Demand Programme Code that took effect on 8 July 2016. The IMDA may from time to time revise or update the Code to maintain currency.

BOARD OF FILM CENSORS
CLASSIFICATION GUIDELINES

Preamble

1. These Guidelines have been prepared to raise awareness and understanding of the Board's film classification process. This is not a legal document and is not intended to limit in any way the Board's exercise of functions under the Films Act (Cap 107). While care has been taken to define the content concerns and classification categories, the Board reserves the right to classify any film in such manner as it deems fit.
2. The following guidelines serve as a basis for classifying films, drama, documentaries and TV series on free-to-air TV, subscription TV and video-on-demand. It will enable subscription TV and free-to-air TV to adopt the same ratings for films which have been classified by the BFC for the cinemas and video release.

Introduction

3. Classification Guidelines aim to reflect community standards, while ensuring that due consideration is given to the film's artistic, educational or literary merit. The purpose of classification is to protect the young while allowing more choice for adults.
4. When making a classification decision for a film, the Board takes careful consideration of the film's content as well as all other relevant factors and concerns. The description of each of the classification categories and the indication of the suitable audience in terms of age may be found in these guidelines. To clarify the usage of words in the guidelines, a glossary of terms is included.
5. There are six ratings in film classification. They are:
 - G - General
 - PG - Parental Guidance
 - PG13 - Parental Guidance for Children below 13
 - NC16 - No Children below 16 years of age
 - M18 - Mature 18, for persons 18 years and above
 - R21 - Restricted to persons 21 years and above
6. G, PG and PG13 categories are advisory ratings while NC16, M18 and R21 are enforceable by law. Cinema operators are required to obtain a licence to screen NC16, M18 or R21 films. They should ensure that the age restriction is enforced.
7. In exceptional cases, a film may not be allowed for all ratings (NAR) when the content of the film undermines national interest or erodes the moral fabric of society.

General Principles

8. In general, the Board's classification decisions are guided by the following principles/considerations:

- Generally accepted social mores
- Need to protect the young
- Racial/religious harmony
- National interest
- Treatment of theme, content and context
- Evaluation of impact

a. Generally Accepted Social Mores

Films screened must be sensitive to community standards of morality and decency, as well as social norms acceptable to the general public.

b. Need to Protect the Young

For the lower ratings, particular attention will be paid to content that may be harmful to or unsuitable for the young.

c. Racial/Religious Harmony

As Singapore is a multi-racial and multi-religious society, films that denigrate any racial or religious group, or create misunderstanding or disharmony amongst the races are not allowed for all ratings.

d. National Interest

Films deemed to undermine public order, national security and/or stability will be disallowed for all ratings.

e. Treatment of Theme, Content and Context

How a film is classified depends on its theme or message, presentation of content, and the context in which scenes are presented.

f. Evaluation of Impact

The impact of a film or a scene will be evaluated based on the presentation, duration, frequency, degree of visual and audio details, and their cumulative effect.

The impact may be stronger where a scene:

- Is shown in greater detail; uses close-ups and slow motion
- Uses special effects such as lighting, sound, colour, or size of image to heighten emotions
- Is prolonged and/or frequent
- Is more explicit than implied

- Is realistic rather than stylised
- Is one in which the local audience can identify with
- Is visual rather than verbal or written.

9. In addition, films produced in a 3D format heighten the viewing experience and will be assessed for impact. They may be considered for a higher rating.

10. In classifying films, due consideration will be given to the artistic, educational or literary merit of the film.

Major Content Concerns

11. This part of the guidelines spells out content concerns that are applied in different degrees at all classification levels. The seven major content concerns are:

- Theme
- Violence
- Nudity
- Sex
- Language
- Drug Use
- Horror

a. Theme and Message

The theme (subject matter or topic) and message are important in the classification of a film. The acceptability of a theme is determined by its suitability and treatment i.e. the way it is presented and the context in which scenes are presented. Suitability and treatment of a theme is especially important for the lower classification ratings as they have an impact on the young. Films dealing with mature content (e.g. drug use, prostitution or homosexuality) would generally be classified as NC16, M18 or R21.

b. Violence

- (i) The depiction of violence may frighten, unnerve, unsettle or invite imitation, especially from children. Therefore, only mild portrayals that are relevant to the plot may be allowed in films meant for children. For the higher classifications, a stronger depiction of violence is permitted if it is justified by context.
- (ii) The concerns in violence are:
 - Depiction of graphic/gratuitous violence
 - Normalising the use of violence as a solution to resolve problems;
 - Depiction of violent gangster behaviour (e.g. self mutilation rites);
 - Emphasis on violent techniques/acts (e.g. methods of torture, gangfights, combat techniques);
 - Encouraging aggressive and sadistic attitudes towards infliction of pain and violence;

- Explicit and prolonged sexual violence or erotic portrayal of sexual assault /coercion.

c. Nudity

Nudity is not allowed for a G rating. Rear nudity is allowed in PG films if it is discreet, justified by context and not meant to titillate. Side nudity in a nonsexual context is allowed under PG13. Upper body frontal nudity in a non-sexual context is allowed under NC16. Full frontal nudity may be allowed for M18 or R21, if it is justified by context and without gratuitous close-ups.

Nudity featured in health programs such as breast-feeding can be rated PG, PG13 or NC16 depending on its portrayal and treatment. More explicit portrayals including child birth could be given a higher rating.

d. Sex

The level of sexual activity allowed on screen depends on the explicitness and frequency of the activity, its relevance to the storyline and the target audience. Generally, depictions of sexual activity are not allowed for G, PG, PG13 and NC16.

Scenes depicting sexual activities such as sado-masochism, bondage or sexual violence will be subject to strict review and may only be allowed under a higher rating, depending on the treatment and context. The content should also not be gratuitous or excessive.

Films likely to encourage deviant sexual activities such as paedophilia, bestiality and necrophilia are not allowed for all ratings.

Films that depict a homosexual lifestyle should be sensitive to community values. They should not, promote or justify a homosexual lifestyle. However, non-exploitative and non-explicit depictions of sexual activity between two persons of the same gender may be considered for R21.

Content considered to be pornographic or obscene in nature is not allowed for all ratings.

e. Language

Coarse language and gestures with sexual connotations are not allowed in G films as they are easily imitated by young children. In PG13 films, expletives such as 'fuck' may be permitted if infrequent. Stronger language is acceptable in NC16 films. When classifying M18 and R21 films, consideration would be given to the degree of offensiveness (i.e. vulgarity and religious association) and frequency of such language.

Films with dialect content are allowed on a case-by-case basis. Chinese films meant for theatrical release should generally be in Mandarin, in line with the Speak Mandarin Campaign.

f. Drug Use

Clear, instructive details are not allowed in G, PG and PG13 films as they can be imitated by the younger audience. Such scenes are more acceptable for higher ratings if they are justifiable by context. Portrayals glamorising or encouraging the use of illegal drugs are not allowed for all ratings.

g. Horror

Classification of horror films will take into consideration the impact and shock effect of such films to ensure that younger audiences are protected from disturbing materials.

Documentaries

12. Documentaries will be classified in accordance with the general principles and content concerns expressed in this document. If the information/content is distorted or misrepresented, or requires maturity to comprehend and discern the message and/or intent, the documentary may be given a higher rating.

Consumer Advice

13. Film ratings are usually accompanied by consumer advice. Films classified PG may be given consumer advice where necessary, for example, in the case of violence. Films rated PG13, NC16, M18 and R21 must carry consumer advice.

14. Rating and consumer advice must be clearly visible and legible in publicity materials including website synopses, advertisements in newspapers and magazines. This is to provide more information for consumers to make informed decisions. It also serves as a guide to parents about the suitability of a film for their children.

Trailers

15. All trailers of films must be submitted for classification. Where the trailer content is not suitable for a general audience, a higher rating will be imposed. Trailers classified as NC16 and above can only be exhibited to persons who meet the stipulated age requirement.

16. Trailers rated PG13 should not be shown prior to a G-rated or PG-rated film, or in public places such as video walls.

17. Trailers of NC16 and M18-rated films may be screened during films of a lower rating and/or at cinema lobbies and at video walls. However, in all cases, the content should be suitable for a general audience, including children. Trailers for R21 films can only be shown before films of the same rating. Film distributors should also observe any conditions imposed by the BFC on the screening of the trailers.

Publicity Materials

18. To avoid offending unsolicited viewers and attracting the under-aged, stricter content standards are applied to publicity materials. These materials include posters, banners or billboards displayed in public places, advertisements in newspapers and magazines. Publicity materials for all ratings should conform to community standards and should not offend the general public. Detailed guidelines for print publicity materials are available on the IMDA website.

19. Once a film is classified, posters displayed at public places should clearly display the rating and consumer advice. The display of posters and banners for R21 films should be restricted to cinemas licensed to exhibit R21 films. More sensitivity should also be exercised in the dissemination of publicity materials for films in the lower rating categories as they can be displayed in public places where young audiences are exposed to them.

Periodic Review and Implementation of Guidelines

20. The Board will continue to review guidelines periodically in the light of changes in lifestyle, public expectations and concerns.

01 October 2016

- Transvestism: The lifestyle in which a person adopts the clothes and behaviour of the opposite sex for purposes of emotional or sexual gratification.
- Treatment: The way in which material is handled or presented.

CLASSIFIABLE ELEMENTS

How a film is rated depends on seven classifiable elements: theme, violence, sex, nudity, language, drug and substance abuse, and horror.

Theme

G	Themes are suitable for viewers of all ages. Content should promote positive social values e.g. family bonding, respect for the elders.
PG	Themes should be suitable for children below 13 years. Themes should generally have a low sense of threat or menace, and be justifiable by context. Special attention should be paid to their Impact on children. Crime, violence, juvenile delinquency and promiscuity should not be glamorised or promoted.
PG13	Themes should be suitable for young teens between 13 and 15. Darker themes can be allowed. Crime, violence, juvenile delinquency, and promiscuity should not be glamorised or promoted.
NC16	Portrayal of mature themes (e.g. gangsterism and transvestism) may be allowed, provided they are treated with discretion and appropriate to those 16 years and above.
M18	Stronger portrayal and exploration of mature themes are allowed. Homosexual theme/content as a sub-plot may be permitted, if discreet in treatment and not gratuitous.
R21	Stronger and more explicit portrayal and exploration of mature themes are allowed. Films that portray, as a main theme, same-sex marriages or parenting will be subject to strict review.
NAR	Themes that promote issues that denigrate any race or religion, or undermine national interest will not be allowed. Themes that glorify undesirable fetishes or behaviour (e.g. paedophilia and bestiality) are not allowed. Promotion or glamorisation of homosexual lifestyle.

Violence

G	Mild portrayals of violence are allowed. The occasional mild threat or menace is acceptable if justified by context. No portrayals of dangerous or harmful behaviour that can be easily imitated by children.
PG	Moderate portrayals of violence without details, may be allowed, if justified by context. Portrayals of violence should not dwell on cruelty, infliction of pain or torture of any kind.
PG13	Moderate portrayals of violence with some details, may be allowed, if justified by context. Portrayals of violence can include some infliction of pain and injury but should not be detailed, intense or prolonged.
NC16	The portrayal of infliction of pain and injuries may be allowed with some details of blood and gore but should not be prolonged or frequent. Explicit sexual violence is not allowed.
M18	Realistic depiction of violence and gore with strong impact is allowed if justified by context. However, the portrayal should not be excessive, gratuitous or exploitative. Stronger portrayals of sexual violence may be allowed if justified by context, infrequent or without strong details.
R21	Strong and realistic depictions of violence and gore are allowed if justified by context. Depiction of torture can be allowed, if not exploitative or gratuitous.
NAR	Detailed or gratuitous depictions of extreme violence or cruelty. Detailed instructions on methods of crime or killings.

Sex

G	No sexual activity is allowed. Portrayals of affection (e.g. brief kissing) can be allowed.
PG	Sexual activity may be implied, and should be infrequent. Only mild displays of affection (e.g. kissing and caressing) and mild sexual innuendoes are allowed.
PG13	Sexual activity may be implied, and should be infrequent and brief. Sexual humour can be allowed. Sexual innuendoes, crude hand gestures and sexual imagery can be allowed if mild and infrequent.
NC16	Non-explicit depiction of sexual activities may be allowed but should not be detailed or prolonged.
M18	Sexual activity may be portrayed if justified by context, infrequent and without strong details. Depiction of occasional, mild sexual activity (i.e. kissing and hugging) between persons of the same gender may be permitted if justified by context and not gratuitous. Sexual violence may be allowed if justified by context, infrequent and without strong details.
R21	Simulated sexual activities are allowed if they are not excessive. Explicit images of sexual activity (e.g. masturbation, fellatio and sexual act) need to be justified by context. Explicit portrayals of sex between persons of the same gender are not allowed. Films likely to encourage an interest in abusive or unnatural sexual activity (e.g. paedophilia, incest and anal sex) are not permitted. Films with themes involving deviant sexual activities (e.g. sadomasochism, bondage, orgies or sex involving violence) will be subject to strict review and are likely to be disallowed.
NAR	Exploitative or pornographic sexual acts. Depictions of obscene and/or unnatural sexual activities (e.g. bestiality, necrophilia and paedophilia). Real sexual activities (e.g. actual penetration, actual ejaculation). Gratuitous, exploitative or offensive depictions or sexual activity including fetishes or practices which are offensive or abhorrent.

Nudity

G	There should be no nudity.
PG	Discreet portrayal of back nudity is allowed if it is brief and in a nonsexual context. Full frontal and side nudity is not allowed.
PG13	Discreet and fleeting side profile nudity may be allowed in a non-sexual context. Full frontal nudity is not allowed. However, infrequent portrayal of female frontal nudity of the upper body may be allowed only under exceptional circumstances and in a non-sexual context. For example, films which feature historical or dramatised events such as the World War II Holocaust, tribal ways of life, or health programmes.
NC16	Infrequent, brief and discreet portrayal of female upper body frontal nudity may be allowed in a non-sexual context.
M18	Full frontal nudity with moderate detail is acceptable if justified by context, and not excessive. No close up of genitalia is allowed.
R21	Full nudity is permitted but should not be excessive. Close ups of genitalia should be contextually justifiable.
NAR	Exploitative and excessive nudity.

Language

G	No coarse language is allowed.
PG	Infrequent coarse language is allowed if it is relevant and justified by context. Examples are "bitch" and "asshole".
PG13	The word "fk" is allowed if used infrequently.
NC16	Infrequent use of expletives such as "motherfker", "cunt", "chee bye", "lan jiao", "puki mak" and "pundai" may be allowed if justified by context and not impactful. Coarse language which offends community and cultural sensitivities should not be allowed (e.g. "kan ni na lao bu"). Continued aggressive use of strong language and verbal sexual abuse is unacceptable.
M18	Coarse language is allowed if it is not excessive.
R21	Frequent use of strong coarse language may be allowed.
NAR	Language that denigrates religion or is religiously profane (e.g. Jesus Fking Christ).

Drug and Substance Abuse

G	No references to illegal drugs or drug abuse. Content meant for children should not promote consumption of alcohol and tobacco products.
PG	Only discreet references to illegal drug use are allowed on the condition that such references do not promote or endorse drug abuse and should be justified by context. Content targeted at children should not promote consumption of alcohol and tobacco products.
PG13	Only discreet depictions of illegal drug use are allowed on the condition that such depictions do not promote or endorse drug abuse and should be justified by context. Content targeted at children should not promote consumption of alcohol and tobacco products.
NC16	Drug taking may be allowed if brief and infrequent. The film must not promote or encourage drug and substance abuse.
M18	Drug taking may be allowed with some details. The film must not promote or encourage drug and substance abuse.
R21	Drug taking sequences may be allowed but instructive details of illegal drug use are not allowed. The film must not promote or encourage drug and substance abuse.
NAR	Materials glorifying or encouraging drug and substance abuse. Detailed and instructive depiction of illegal drug use.

Horror

G	Treatment of horror should not be too realistic, or threatening, as it is likely to cause fear and anxiety among children. Horror tinged with humour may reduce the impact. Scenes of horror should be mild and not psychologically disturbing.
PG	Frightening sequences should not be prolonged or intense. Horror tinged with humour and in a fantasy setting may be mitigating factors.
PG13	Depiction of horror can be more realistic and intense.
NC16	Films with disturbing or gory scenes without strong details may be allowed. Frightening scenes which are more prolonged may be allowed.
M18	Prolonged and/or intense sequences that invoke fear and/or terror may be permitted.
R21	Depiction of intense horror, and sustained threat or menace may be permitted if contextually justified. Portrayals of extreme abhorrent activity that may offend and cause great discomfort may be disallowed.
NAR	N.A.
